APPENDIX B—THE COMMISSION

APPROACH AND CONDUCT OF THE COMMISSION

ESTABLISHMENT

On 15 August 2014, the Commission and the relevant Terms of Reference were formally published in the Government Gazette. Staff appointed to the Commission immediately began making the practical arrangements necessary to begin operations.

The Commission occupied premises located at Level 9, 50 Grenfell Street, Adelaide from October 2015, and set up a free call 1800 number (1800 826 866), GPO mail box, generic email address and website. The website contained information on the work of the Commission, including practice directions, frequently asked questions, a fact sheet for government employees, and information sheets on procedure at hearings. Later, some submissions received on a non-confidential basis were published on the website for the benefit of the public.

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

On 21 October 2014 a media release advised the public that the Inquiry had begun and that in due course, submissions would be sought from any person or organisation with information relevant to the Terms of Reference. It advised that the schedule of work for the Commission would include hearings where evidence would be taken. It was anticipated that, initially, hearings would be in private, but there was power to hold public hearings in certain circumstances. The release pointed out that individual cases would not be investigated as part of the Commission work, except where they highlighted systemic problems relevant to the Terms of Reference. It also advised that any criminal matters identified during the investigation process would be referred to the appropriate authorities.

On 1 November 2014, a Public Notice published in the Advertiser newspaper invited submissions through the website or by post. The notice was also published in other selected metropolitan and country newspapers during November. At the same time, letters were written to relevant stakeholders, individuals and organisations inviting them to make submissions.

RESPONSE TO CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The response to the initial media release and newspaper advertisements was disappointing. The Commissioner undertook a number of media engagements and also wrote to people/organisations identified as key stakeholders inviting them to make submissions. Initially, this request also had a limited response. The modest early response to the call for submissions was concerning and was attributed to a number of causes. The establishment of this Commission coincided with hearings by the federal Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

In addition, a State Parliamentary Select Committee on Child Protection had begun an inquiry on child protection issues on 21 May 2014 and had also called for submissions. There was a degree of confusion in the community about the organisation to which submissions should be directed. A number of individuals/organisations indicated an erroneous impression that a submission made to the Parliamentary Select Committee would automatically be made available to this Commission. Of particular concern was the lack of response from workers currently employed by Families SA who the Commission believed would be able to provide first-hand information as to relevant system issues. The reticence on the part of current workers to contact the Commission was in part attributed to a concern that to do so might constitute a breach of the Code of Conduct under the Public Sector Act 2009. That difficulty was, to some extent, resolved by the Deputy Chief Executive for Child Protection issuing an advice to all Families SA employees that the Commission would be visiting offices to discuss its work and to talk directly with staff about their work. He encouraged staff to attend those meetings and, if they wished, to participate in the Commission inquiry process.

The situation appeared to have been further exacerbated by the Coronial Inquiry into the death of Chloe Valentine, which began on 14 August 2014 and continued over a number of months. The Coroner’s findings and recommendations were delivered on 9 April 2015. That inquiry was the subject of intense media attention; certain employees of Families SA were identified by name and had their photographs appear on television and in the newspapers. Several staff were pilloried in the press as a result of perceived inefficiencies in their work practices. It became clear that there was an apprehension among Families SA workers generally that anyone electing to give evidence before the Commission would be similarly identified and subjected to adverse comment and publicity.

In order to dispel such concerns, members of the Commission visited metropolitan and country offices of Families SA. Workers were reminded of the advice from the Deputy Chief Executive and were informed about the nature of this inquiry and the procedures that would be followed to gather evidence. They were reassured about the ability to give evidence and/or make submissions on a confidential basis. In performing this service, lawyers from the Commission were assisted by Di Gursansky, a member of the Expert Advisory Panel.

Eventually, the Commission received a total of 374 submissions, either online or in writing, many on a confidential basis. The Commission also invited 72 individuals and organisations to make submissions. Of that group, 30 responded to the invitation.
CONSULTATIONS, SITE VISITS AND WITNESSES

As part of the Inquiry the Commission engaged in a number of consultations and informal meetings with relevant stakeholders and other interested parties. None of these people gave evidence on oath nor were required to make an affirmation. The information obtained in the course of such meetings and consultations was not therefore treated as evidence before the Commission but was used to inform the Commission about relevant matters and assist further enquiries. However, most of those consulted subsequently became witnesses and gave evidence on oath or affirmation. The Commission also visited some sites to better understand some of the evidence given in the course of hearings.

On 2 July 2015, Counsel Assisting, together with a senior solicitor made a presentation about the work of the Royal Commission to legal staff of the Criminal Law Section at the Legal Services Commission. The Commissioner and Counsel Assisting also presented to Judges of the Supreme, District and Magistrates Courts at the Judicial Development Day held in November 2015. Judges from the Federal Circuit Court were also in attendance.

In the course of this Inquiry the Commission took evidence from a total of 381 people, including evidence taken in private hearings and the five case studies. Some witnesses were obliged to give evidence more than once because of overlapping issues particularly with the case studies. For statistical purposes, they have been counted only once in calculating the above figure. Witnesses who gave evidence in the course of the case studies numbered 76 for McCoole and 66 for the other four. The remaining witnesses gave evidence in private hearings.

HEARING PROCEDURE

The first formal hearing of the Commission was held on 5 November 2014. This included an opening statement by Counsel Assisting as to the future work of the Commission. This was followed by some formal evidence from Shirley Smith, the Redesign Program Manager for Families SA, whose evidence was primarily concerned with the organisational structure of the Office for Child Protection and Families SA, its operational arm. The transcript of the opening by Counsel Assisting was subsequently published on the Commission website. Thereafter, hearings were adjourned until submissions closed at the end of January 2015.

Hearings commenced at the beginning of February 2015 and continued through to March 2016. With the exception of the formal case studies and some more formal hearings, all metropolitan hearings took place in the hearing room at the Commission premises, 50 Grenfell Street, Adelaide.

During the week beginning 1 June 2015 the Commission travelled to Mount Gambier and conducted hearings at Mount Gambier Courthouse. In the week beginning 13 July 2015, the Commission conducted hearings at Port Augusta Courthouse. The Commission considered travelling to the APY Lands for hearings but decided to take evidence from relevant witnesses using audio-visual links. This technology was also used to take evidence from witnesses in the Northern Territory and New South Wales.

Most witnesses were served with a summons before giving their evidence and witnesses either gave evidence on oath or made an affirmation to tell the truth.

In accordance with the Commission’s Practice Directions, all of these hearings were held in private. From time to time a list of witnesses and the dates and times on which they were due to give evidence was published on the Commission’s website. No applications were received to have any of these hearings declared open to the public.

CASE STUDIES

The evidence at each of the case study hearings was not confidential but those hearings were also held in private to protect the identities of the young people who were the subject of the relevant case study. However, the Commission took the view that the high level of public interest in McCoole’s activities required a different approach. Nevertheless, the evidence in McCoole referred extensively to the names of children in care, their residential locations and in some cases details of their abuse. In those circumstances, it was not considered appropriate that the hearing be open to the public at large. The balance between the public interest in these proceedings, and the need to protect the privacy of the children concerned, was resolved by permitting accredited media to be present during hearings and to report as to evidence, subject to undertakings and/or orders as to non-publication of sensitive details.

In the course of the hearings, non-publication orders were made on the names of some witnesses who established in evidence that they would suffer hardship by reason of publication of their name and/or image, as well as some items of evidence of a sensitive nature.
A total of 29 staff were employed at the Commission; not all staff worked for the whole term of the Inquiry.

LEGAL STAFF

Emily Telfer was appointed as Counsel Assisting the Commissioner. Ms Telfer has been employed by the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions (ODPP) for many years and as a Senior Prosecutor has had extensive experience managing a team of trial prosecutors working on complex trials. This included trials involving the abuse of children and solicitor’s work in country areas including the APY Lands. In earlier employment with the Legal Services Commission, Ms Telfer had experience in criminal defence work acting for children and young people charged with criminal offences. Ms Telfer undertook counsel work in hearings, as well as supervision and management of legal and research staff.

EXPERT ASSISTANCE

EXPERT ADVISORY PANEL

DR DIANA HETZEL

Dr Diana Hetzel brings an important perspective to the Commission, with her public health background, medical experience, research skills and specialist knowledge in population health. Dr Hetzel has a long history as an advocate for children and families, and has strongly supported early intervention and interdisciplinary strategies in child protection. She has a clinical medical background in child health; and over 30 years’ experience in the health and welfare sectors, including public health research; service planning and program evaluation; and policy development. Her current research interests are in the areas of health inequalities; the socioeconomic determinants of population health; and the impact of disadvantage and violence on the health and wellbeing of infants, children and young people. She has chaired the SA Council for the Care of Children, and been a member of the SA Children’s Interests Bureau, SA Child Health Council, and the SA Child Death and Serious Injury Review Committee. She has also served as a non-executive member on a number of boards of organisations, which provide health and education-related services to children and young people.
MS ROSEMARY KENNEDY

Rosemary Kennedy is a registered psychologist also admitted as a practitioner of the Supreme Court of South Australia. Ms Kennedy worked for several years as a psychologist in mental health and disability institutions, and in the management of secure and community based residential care services for children at risk and young offenders. Ms Kennedy worked for many more years as a Senior Lecturer at the University of South Australia teaching social workers, a wide range of human service workers, and psychologists. In this role she also consulted and researched in the areas of human service law and ethics, human service training, employment and regulation, human service practice, and service delivery arrangements including case management. She has published several books on case management, law and human services and human service failures. She has undertaken adverse events and integrity allegations reviews for a range of organisations. Ms Kennedy now works part-time in her own psychology consultancy and part-time for the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency. Ms Kennedy maintains an interest in human service research, and has been a member of several organisational research ethics committees including that of the Department for Communities and Social Inclusion.

MS DI GURSANKEY

Di Gursansky is a social worker who has been actively involved in professional practice with government and non-government agencies, social work and human service education and both state and national leadership of the Australian Association of Social Workers. Ms Gursansky has had a long-standing interest in issues relating to children, particularly those identified as ‘at risk’ or children in the care of the Minister.

She has held ministerial appointments previously to the Children’s Interests Advisory Committee and is currently appointed to the SA Child Death and Serious Injury Review Committee. Over the period of ten years on this latter committee Ms Gursansky has undertaken many in-depth reviews where there has been neglect, abuse and/or complex medical and disability issues. Ms Gursansky has a strong interest in practice research, evaluation and has written texts on case management. Ms Gursansky has conducted organisation and program reviews in relation to children’s services in South Australia and interstate. She has extensive experience of administrative law settings in particular through her previous role with the Social Security Appeals Tribunal and currently with her appointment to the South Australian Civil and Administrative Tribunal.

OTHER EXPERT ASSISTANCE

In addition to support from the expert advisory panel, the Commission relied on research support provided by the Australian Centre for Child Protection (ACCP), based at the University of South Australia. It is the only national centre dedicated to child protection research, policy and practice development. The relationship with the ACCP provided the Commission access to leading researchers in the area of child protection, and provided valuable guidance in contemporary best practice. Professor Fiona Arney, ACCP Director, Dr Sara McLean and Dr Kerry Lewig, provided particular assistance.

The following research papers prepared by ACCP for the Commission are available online at www.agd.sa.gov.au/child-protection-systems-royal-commission

- The implementation of recommendations made by independent child protection inquiries in South Australia;
- The effectiveness of child protection income management in Australia;
- Report of therapeutic residential care; and
- Report on secure care models for young people at risk of harm.

The federal Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse is responsible for commissioning and managing a formidable body of research in the area of child abuse prevention and response. The Commission has benefitted from the cooperation and assistance of the federal Royal Commission’s Policy and Research Branch, in particular providing access to results of research, including research in progress and research not yet publicly available.

Other researchers assisted the Royal Commission from time to time. Professor Paul Delfabbro, based at the University of Adelaide’s School of Psychology provided access to his vast research portfolio concerning child protection and out of home care. Dr Philip Gillingham, from the School of Social Work and Human Services at the University of Queensland similarly assisted by enabling the Commission to access his research about the use of information and communication technology in social work.

Luke Broomhall, a clinical psychologist working in private practice at Broomhall Young Psychology gave expert assistance to the Commission by evaluating psychometric tools employed in the selection of staff to positions in the child protection system.

APPENDIX C—EXPERT ADVISORY PANEL PROJECT METHODOLOGY

THE PROJECTS

Review of screening assessments 634
Usual Practice review 634
Cumulative Harm review 634
Intake review 635
THE PROJECTS

To increase the Commission’s understanding of practice quality, members of the Expert Advisory Panel (see Appendix B) reviewed selected files across four areas of interest:

• How the Screening Unit in the Department of Communities and Social Inclusion (DCSI) completed assessments as part of child-related employment screening.
• How Families SA responded to child protection notifications, including assessments and case planning, as recorded in C3MS files—the Usual Practice review.
• How Families SA responded to the possibility of children suffering cumulative harm—the Cumulative Harm review.
• How Families SA Call Centre practitioners screened notifications (whether they were assessed as requiring a response and, if so, what form of response)—the Intake review.

The results of the reviews have been referred to throughout this report. A summary of the methodology applied in the reviews follows.

REVIEW OF SCREENING ASSESSMENTS

This project involved a qualitative review of 150 screening assessment briefings from 2013/14 that contained negative information about the applicant for child-related employment screening. Samples of assessment outcomes from each decision-making level in the Screening Unit, including those of the Complex Assessment Panel, were selected and reviewed. Thematic analyses of the outcomes within and across samples focused on the following broad issues:

• compliance with standards;
• management of discontinued criminal charges;
• management of child protection notifications, including those not investigated or substantiated;
• engagement of the applicant and weight given to their responses;
• elicitation and use of information from additional sources;
• weighting of information in decision making;
• cancellation of clearances;
• expertise of assessors;
• appropriateness of ‘rules’; and
• appropriateness of specific clearances.

‘Rules’ refers to the material used by the Screening Unit to guide its screening assessments. The rules were taken to consist of the following:

• Children’s Protection Act 1993 (SA), Division 3
• Children’s Protection Regulations 2010 (SA)
• DCSI, Assessment Procedure for Dealing with Criminal History Information: Child Related Employment, including Matrix for Assessing Criminal History Information, 1 October 2014 (internal unpublished document)
• DCSI, Approvals Authorisation: Child-related Assessment, including Approval Authority Matrix, 11 September 2014 (internal unpublished document)
• Department for Education and Child Development (DECD), Standards for Use of Child Protection Information in the Assessment of an Applicant’s Relevant History Pursuant to the Children’s Protection Act 1993, issued 1 July 2014 (internal unpublished document)
• DECD, Standards for Dealing with Information Obtained about the Criminal History of Employees and Volunteers who Work with Children, issued July 2012.

USUAL PRACTICE REVIEW

This project involved a review of 60 Families SA child protection C3MS files from 2013/14, picked at random. The reviewers used a checklist containing a set of broad indicators of good practice derived from the literature and practice experience to review each child’s file. The reviewers sought evidence in each file of the child’s point of view, the influence of theoretical underpinnings and practice approaches to decision making, supervision and professional judgements. They reviewed the screening of the notification, assessment, case planning, intervention, monitoring and case closure practice as presented in the files. They also looked at the use and contribution of C3MS to case management and decision making.

CUMULATIVE HARM REVIEW

This review examined a selection of cases to consider how Families SA assessed and responded to the risk of cumulative harm to children. The Commission provided 19 cases to two members of the Expert Advisory Panel, who examined each case in the context of a number of research articles, their practice and professional knowledge, and consideration of the long-term effects of cumulative abuse and neglect on children’s wellbeing.
INTAKE REVIEW

This review examined 120 notifications taken by the Families SA Call Centre over five months, from 1 July to 1 December 2014. Of the notifications, 20 were classified as Tier 1, 20 as Tier 2, 20 as Tier 3, 20 as Notifier Only Concern, 20 as No Grounds for Intervention and 20 as Adolescent at Risk. The 20 notifications of each type were provided by the Agency and therefore their selection was not necessarily random.

For each notification, the Commission staff extracted from C3MS and tabulated the following information:

• the child’s date of birth;
• the child’s Aboriginal or non-Aboriginal status;
• the method of notification—Child Abuse Report Line (CARL) or eCARL;
• the date of allegation;
• any previous child protection concerns relating to the child;
• the identity of the notifier for eCARL notifications;
• the designation/profession of the notifier;
• the weight given to the notifier’s status;
• the provision or otherwise of diversionary options in response to the allegation;
• the rationale for the decision made; and
• any other noteworthy observations.

These areas were decided by Commission staff in consultation with two members of the Expert Advisory Panel, who then reviewed the material and provided commentary on each case. The commentary was structured on the following issues, which were decided by Commission staff in consultation with the experts:

• the quality of information;
• the diversionary responses that appear to have been warranted;
• the appropriateness or otherwise of the notification; and
• the appropriateness of the chosen tier rating.

The experts then drew general conclusions about intake processes evidenced by the project sample.
